Objective

The aim of this online conference is to provide the audience with an overview of challenges and opportunities in the regulation of Artificial Intelligence, its intersection with new EU data laws as well as with aspects of European Data Spaces governance.

The conference will address regulatory tendencies and provide the opportunity to discuss current legal reforms with high-level experts in the field.

Who should participate in the online seminar?

Data protection and IT lawyers, data protection officers, compliance and information officers, in-house counsel, lawyers in private practice, representatives of NGOs, judges, staff of data protection authorities, EU and national civil servants, staff of international organisations interested in the topic.

Interactive online seminar

The conference will be hosted on the Zoom videoconferencing platform. The highest security settings will be applied. You will be able to interact immediately and directly with our top-level speakers and other participants. We will make the most of the technical tools available to deliver an intensive, interactive experience.

You will learn...

- how ethics impacts artificial intelligence and data governance in the digital age
- about the legal and ethical perspectives on EU AI Act
- how the new AI Act powers responsible innovation
- about the use of facial recognition by law enforcement
- about the impact of new data regulations on privacy and data protection
- about the intersections of AI, Data Act and Data Governance Act
- about personal data protection in EU Data Spaces
- about the governance of European Health Data Space
- how to ensure consistent application of new data laws
